

Feeling Faces

Use these faces with toddlers to practice labeling different feelings, glue them on paper for a fine motor craft activity, or use them as children enter the room to talk about how they feel this morning.

